After centuries of struggle, we have made much progress in modeling individuals into models to understand the world. "Phishing" and "social engineering" are techniques used to manipulate people into giving away information, or even worse, granting access to systems. The rise of the internet has made it easier than ever to perform these activities, which often go unnoticed. People of color, sex workers, and other vulnerable populations are particularly at risk for these tactics. People have been taught to be aware of such threats, but the reality is that these tactics are more prevalent than ever.

Violence, intimidation, and harassment of communities of color have increased. People of color, sex workers, and other vulnerable populations are particularly at risk for violence. "Racism" and "sexism" are often used to justify the violence against these groups. The rise of the internet has made it easier than ever to perform these activities, which often go unnoticed. People have been taught to be aware of such threats, but the reality is that these tactics are more prevalent than ever.

Abortion Now!
We call social justice movements to develop strategies and mobilize communities.

SECTION 1: DISPARITY

Abolition movements, like women’s movements, have created a new understanding and practice. They have forced us to recognize the violence and oppression that underpin our society. The struggle for equality and justice is a perpetual battle, but we are building on it. It is a journey that requires constant struggle and persistence. We must continue to fight for a world where all people are free, equal, and cherished.

We call for an end to all forms of discrimination, oppression, and violence. We cannot ignore the urgent need for social justice. We must address the root causes of inequality and work towards a just and equitable society.

The statement of the CR-INTERNET movement

Abolition movements are crucial in achieving a world where all voices are heard and all human rights are respected. We must continue to fight for a society where all people are treated with dignity and respect. The struggle for social justice is not just a battle, it is a way of life. We must continue to work towards a world where all people are free, equal, and cherished.
